Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia

Vol. XIV. No. 1

RA Sponsors Frosh Dance

Big news on campus! A "Sadie Hawkins" Dance will be held for ALL FRESHMEN on Saturday, October 7th, from nine until twelve o'clock in the Big Gym. Sponsored by The Recreation Association, it will be an informal dance, with personal invitations being sent to the freshman boys at the University of Virginia, the University of Richmond, and Randolph-Macon. At the dance, a "Lil Abner" will be chosen from among the boys, and he in turn will select his Daisy Mae from the girls. Music will be furnished by the Mary Washington Dance Band, and co-hostesses will be Mrs. Wade, Dean of Freshmen, and Miss Stewart, Faculty Sponsor of RA.

New Buildings Near Completion

According to college officials, the completion of the new buildings on campus has been delayed because of the shortage of building supplies.

The wings to the dining hall which will accommodate 800 students will be completed around November 15, making possible the use of four separate dining halls; in the meantime the two-shift meal system will be continued. The lower dining hall will be used for social activities such as informal dances, parties, and receptions.

Dr. Combs, president of the college, said that the new infirmary, which was to have been finished by the middle of December, will now open late this winter.

Another new addition to the campus is the new $318,000 heating plant on College Avenue. Heat for all buildings on campus will be supplied by the two large furnaces which have been connected and are now being adjusted for full time operation.

National Director Of UCM Meets Campus Committee

Mary Washington had as its visitor Monday, September 26, the Rev. James L. Stoner who is the National Director of the University Christian Mission. He met with the Campus Committee and Executive Committee of COME Week, Mary Washington's emphasis week for this year. This week is planned by the University Christian Mission and M. W. C.'s YWCA.

Mr. Stoner's work takes him to many campuses throughout the United States to confer with local committees and also serve as Director of many of the Missions which are held annually. Mr. Stoner was formerly Director of The Student Christian Fellowship at Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio. This organization consists of seven church groups plus the YMCA and YWCA. Rev. Stoner was minister at the Church of Christ in Spring Glen, Hamden, Connecticut, and in 1944 he became Associate Secretary of the University of Texas YMCA. These Missions were inaugurated by the Federal Council of Churches in 1938 and have continued on the campuses ever since. The University Christian Mission Committee consists of representatives from the United Student Christian Council and the Department of Evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches.

Bayonet Changes Go Into Effect

According to the new Bayonet, five changes in college rules have been made. Beginning with this semester the following changes in rules will go into effect:

1. Students will be permitted to date until 11 o'clock on Saturday night instead of 10:30, as has been the rule.

2. Dates will have access to additional campus facilities, including the golf course, tennis courts, and riding facilities. A fee of 50 cents will be charged for use of the courts, $1 green fee for use of the golf course, and the prevailing fee for horseback riding.

3. A senior and her date may now drive to the movies on Saturday afternoon and to Sunday midday dinner in town instead of walking or going by bus.

Two girls from the junior and sophomore classes with their dates may ride to movies on Saturday afternoon and to Sunday midday dinner in town.

4. Girls in groups of four or more may now go for rural walks which may include stops at historical places of interest.

5. A senior and her date may go to the movies any afternoon during the week except Sunday and once a week on Tuesday, Thursday, or Friday evening either by bus or by walking. They must sign "out" and "in" with the dormitory hostess and return by 10:30 p. m.

Two or more students in any class with their dates may go to the movies Saturday afternoon providing they sign "out" and "in" with their hostesses and are back by 6 p. m.

FREE Bulletin!

This free issue of the Bulletin is being given to every person on the Hill. The Bulletin subscription campaign begins today, Tuesday, Sept. 26 and the price is $1.00 a year. Staff members will visit dorm rooms tonight. They are urging that EVERY person including faculty take a subscription. Staff members will canvass faculty offices later.

The next Bulletin will come out two weeks from today, October 10.

Lucky Strike Stages Contest

Lucky Strike is conducting a jingle contest which pays $25.00 for each four-line jingle accepted. These must apply to life on the campus and will be used in the Happy-Go-Lucky advertising campaign which will appear later in the Bulletin and in 275 other college newspapers. The jingles should be submitted to Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York, 46, N. Y.

Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson, Mrs. Ruth Wade Join M. W. C. Administrative Staff As Deans

Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson

Mrs. Ruth Wade

Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia has undergone many changes in the last few months, with new buildings in the process of completion and new professors on campus.

The most talked about change however, is that Mary Washington now has two new Deans.

One is Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson, replacing Mrs. Charles Lake Bushnell, who had served twenty-nine years as Dean of Women.

The other is Mrs. Ruth Seawright Wade, Dean of Freshmen. This post was vacated four years ago and had not been filled until this year.

After joining the staff of Mary Washington in 1948, Miss Stephenson was director of the Spanish House when it was established in 1949.

Previous Experience

Prior to her work at Mary Washington, Miss Stephenson held positions at the University of Chicago and in Richmond schools. She served as an assistant Spanish professor here, but with her duties as Dean of Women, she feels that one class is Spanish lyric poetry will be all her time permits.

The two new deans plan to make several changes in the traditional relation between deans and students. Their new policy is to go to the student, not wait for the students to come to them. Visits at different dining tables and chats in dorm rooms are just two phrases of this new policy.

As for more changes in rules for the college, Miss Stephenson promises more privileges as the students show they are ready for them.

Loyalty Period Set For Sept. 27-29

LOYALTY PERIOD, which customarily comes later in the fall at Mary Washington College, will be observed this year on the second week of classes.

The traditional observance is marked by the pledging of loyalty to Mary Washington. This will take place at LOYALTY NIGHT CONVOCATION which will mark the beginning of LOYALTY PERIOD on Wednesday, September 27th, at 8 P. M. in George Washington Auditorium.

A Senior-Sophomore class skit will be given on Thursday, followed by a Junior-Freshman sister-class skit on Friday. LOYALTY PERIOD will be climaxed Friday day night with a giant pep rally in the amphitheatre at 6:30 P. M. A feature which will culminate the celebration will be the removal of freshman caps, thus officially dismissing them from MOUSE WEEK regulations. The Mary Washington College All-Girl Band, another outstanding feature, will also make its first appearance of the season at the rally.

LOYALTY PERIOD is sponsored jointly by Student Government Association, Young Women's Christian Association, and Recreation Association.

1200 Students Registered Here

As Mary Washington College enters its 39th year, some 1,200 students are enrolled. Of these 430 are freshmen, 650 upperclassmen, 85 day students, and 15 veterans. There are only 10 students housed off-campus.

MW Faculty Gains and Loses Members

Dr. Morgan Combs, president of Mary Washington, has announced the appointments of sixteen new members of the college faculty.

Fifteen of the new faculty members are women, four of whom are graduates of Mary Washington. They are Dr. Pauline King of Norton, Virginia, assistant professor of art; Mrs. Nannie Mae Williams of Richmond, Virginia, instructor of psychology; Miss Rebecca Woolsey of Granite Falls, North Carolina, instructor of physical education; and Mrs. Ruby Harris of Fredericksburg, instructor in home economics, and also president of the Fredericksburg Woman's Club.

New Speech Professor

Other new additions to the faculty are Charles Cox of Millmount, Cumberland County, Virginia, instructor in radio and speech; Miss Jane Bell of Knoxville, Tennessee, instructor of physical education; Miss Evelyn Bognull of Memphis, Tennessee, Spanish instructor and hostess of Framar, the Spanish House; Dr. Marion Greene of Richmond, Virginia, acting assistant professor of Spanish; Mrs. Charles S. Grosso of Hot Springs, Virginia, hostess of Mary Ball Hall.

Others are Miss Rosemary Herman of Waynesville, North Carolina, instructor in Spanish; Mrs. Marjorie McClelland of Arlington, Virginia, hostess of Frances Willard Hall; Miss Martha Newell of Richmond, Virginia, instructor in dramatic arts and hostess of Brent Hall; Dr. Caroline Pace of Blacksburg, Virginia, acting assistant professor of English; Mrs. Frances V. Robins of Schley, Virginia, extra hostess; Miss Doris Sharpe of Greensboro, North Carolina, instructor in English; and Miss Edna Jo Whisenant of Bessemer, Alabama, assistant instructor in biology.

This year seven professors are missing on the Mary Washington campus. They are Miss Mary Annette Klinesmith, Mrs. Mildred B. Solenberger, and Dr. Arthur L. Vogelback who are away on leaves of absence.

Three other professors are working in new positions. They are Dr. James F. Mornile, Dr. H. L. Cobb, and Dr. R. W. Pyle.

Miss Klinesmith, psychology instructor, has received a Fulbright scholarship from the state department. She is doing advanced clinical research at the Institute of Psychiatry of the University of London.

Vogelback In Europe

Dr. Vogelback, professor of English, has also been given a grant by the state department and a year's leave of absence by the college. He is at Aarhus University in Denmark as a visiting professor of American literature.

Director of radio, Mrs. Solenberger, is at New York University working in her doctors degree in communications.

Two of those professors who have new positions are teaching on other campuses: Dr. Cobb, who was an assistant Spanish professor, is now associate professor of modern languages at James Millikin University in Decatur, Illinois; and Dr. Pyle, associate professor of biology, is at New York State University in the same capacity. Dr. Mornile, associate professor of Italian and Spanish is in Washington with the Department of State.

Dr. J. L. Allison, who was an assistant professor of English, left in June to travel in Europe.

Rotating Hostess Added To Staff

Mrs. Francis B. Robins a rotating hostess is an addition to the hostess staff here this year. She is from Schley, Virginia.

Mrs. Robins will relieve the other twelve hostesses in turn to make possible an occasional night off for them which they have heretofore been denied unless they could make special arrangements for release from their duties.

Important

Those wishing to work on the Bulletin come to E. Lee Trinkle Thursday, September 28 at 8:15 o'clock. Positions are open on the circulation staff and on all editorial staffs, including news, feature, activities and sports. Typists are also needed. Qualifications are an interest in newspaper work and a will to work.

Editor Seeks Criticism

The Bulletin extends a cordial welcome to all its new readers and a "glad to be back—see you back" greeting to all former readers.

B Day is here at last! B Day is Bulletin Day and Bulletin Day means news about and for you. This you includes every student and faculty member at Mary Washington. A new year is beginning and from this first issue until the last we want to print everything that you need to know. Any new news items should be turned in to Jody Levey. Lindy Crosby handles club write-ups after the affair is over. If you know of anything which would make a good feature contact Fran Glass. Sports will be covered by Shirley King. Any bits of personal news should be given to Ann Flythe or to one of the representatives appointed by her. And I'll be looking forward to hearing from you in Letters to the Editor. Send your letters to Box 1187.

Please make your comments, complaints and suggestions to US. We really want to know how you feel about The Bulletin and we want you to have some opinion, good or bad. If it's bad, tell us so we can improve. Remember, this is a college paper being written on a college level by college students and although we have outgrown high school writing, such as gossip columns, we aren't professional yet and are always open to criticism.

This is your paper. We are only your representatives of the press. It's up to you to make The Bulletin the kind of paper you want it to be.

Staff Sends Open Letter to Counselors

Dear Student Counselors,

We of the Bulletin staff wish to express to you the appreciation of the entire Student Body for your assistance in helping to orientate the new students into Mary Washington College life. By your tireless efforts you have made a success of this new program of making Freshmen feel at home immediately. We of the staff consider it a worthwhile undertaking and hope that you have set a precedent which will continue. To you 55 girls we again say thank you.

—The Staff of the Bulletin

New Counsellors Aid Freshmen

A new counseling system has been established here for the freshmen in order to facilitate the adjustment between high school and college.

Mrs. John C. Russell, director of personnel, explains that this new system is an outgrowth of the Off-Campus Cabinet which has been disbanded because of the small number of town students this year.

An upperclass counselor has been appointed for approximately each eight freshman girls. Those upperclass counselors have been selected because of their loyalty to M.W.C. and their interest in its students as shown by their participation in many varied activities. They are under the supervision of Mrs. Russell who works closely with Dean of Women, Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson, and the Dean of Freshmen, Mrs. Seawright Wade.

The main function of the counselors is to interpret college to the new students; they will have scheduled dormitory meetings with their groups when they will assist in explaining the regulations, teaching the campus songs, adjusting roommate problems, planning trips to local shrines, and answering the many questions which perplex the new students.

The counselors were ready and waiting to greet their advisees Sunday night, September 17.

Shop Plans Fall Showing

The manager of Alice Hefflin Exclusive Fashions located at 1015 Princess Anne, has extended an invitation through the editor to all M.W.C. students, but especially the Freshmen, to visit the shop for the Fall Showing of fashions. The hours are from 9-10 at night on Monday, Sept. 30 and 10-5 and 8-10 on Tuesday, Oct. 1. For you newcomers' information this shop specializes in tweed suits.

Sally Hammett, last year's winner of the Kid Party contest, shows Freshmen what may happen to them when they recall their childhood Friday, October 6, at 8 P. M. in Monroe Auditorium during the annual Kid Party.

'Y' President Sends Letter To Students

The Chicago Leadership Training School was held at the University of Chicago from June 19th until July 28th. The group was composed mostly of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. presidents representing colleges and universities all over the country. Six constituted the below the Mason Dixon line delegation, eight Yankees attended, and three represented Western territory. In the vital statistics department, there was a definite shortage of males—two of the latter Vs. 15 females. Suffice to say, however, that the two fellows thoroughly enjoyed being so completely out-numbered. The University's good neighbor policy solved the man power problem admirably.

Our group was certainly blessed with mild temperatures and cool breezes—a fact of which we were very appreciative, particularly during hiking period. (Orientation week, that is.) The Chicago Board of Trade, Marshall Field Company, Art Institute, Swift Packing Company, Back-of-the-Yards Council neighborhood, University of Chicago Settlement House, and the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation are only a few of the many fascinating and interesting places we visited. It will be difficult to forget our 8 A. M. departures from Fensham (the president's residence) and the 5 P. M. returns. It amazed us that so many marvelous activities could be packed into one week without it splitting in the seams!

Those who helped to make the 1950 Leadership Training School one of the most memorable experiences in our lives were Reverend Robert Rankin, Executive Secretary of YMCA at Oberlin College in Oberlin, Ohio; Dr. Victor Oberhauser, professor of Christian Social Ethics; and Dr. James Luther Adams, professor of Christian Orientation. Mr. Rankin was director of the Leadership Training School as well as instructor in the Leadership Training Class. Through the patient and diligent guidance of these men, our eyes were opened to the problems of the world today, and our thoughts were directed into paths of knowledge which we hope will provide the foundation on which a better world of tomorrow may be built.

I am especially grateful for the Christian Community in which we lived, and for the understanding we found while discussing our common interests and goals. The school was truly an inspiring and enriching Christian experience. I feel that the many outstanding ideas and suggestions discovered there will do much to strengthen the YWCA at Mary Washington College, and in turn benefit the student body as a whole.

I am sincerely grateful for the opportunity to have attended the Chicago Leadership Training School.

Phyllis Maddox,

President, YWCA.

(Editor's Note: The Student Body voted unanimously last spring to use money from the Student Activity Fund to send Phyllis Maddox to this training school.

Joy Of An Editor

Getting out this paper is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly, if we don't they say we are too serious; if we clip things from other papers; we are too lazy to write ourselves, if we do not, we are stuck with our own stuff.

If we stick close to the job all day we ought to be hunting news. If we get out and try to hustle, we ought to be on the job in the office.

If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius, and if we do print them, the paper is filled with junk. If we make a change in the other fellow's write-up, we are too critical; if we don't we are asleep.

Now, like as not, some guy will say we swiped this from some other paper. We did.—American U Eagle—Feb. 8, 1950.

KOLLUM

(Editor's note: This paper hereby states that it is not responsible for anything appearing in Kollum. However, we feel certain that all new readers will appreciate the great literary genius and outstanding ability of the writer of Kollum, therefore we deem it necessary to keep said writer's identity secret!)

Here we are again with the first issue comes the new readers. Therefore, in view of the fact that said readers are undoubtedly Freshman and transfers, we felt it our duty to expand a wee bit on the rules which the Bayonet has set forth. As the students well know, the Bayonet is inclined to be rather confusing at times. So perhaps new students may be given a better idea of the purpose behind them. Anyway, here're the rules:

Night Riding: Under no circumstances may students night ride in any form, shape or fashion whatsoever... with the following exceptions: Directly to and from Church, with Upperclassmen taking the route down Cornell Street, right on Washington St., then down Lewis Street turning right on Princess Ann. If the Presbyterian Church is a student's destination, then car must be parked on Caroline Street and any other Churches require that car be parked on George Street. Freshman may only ride to and from Church every 15th Sunday and then it is required that 10 other couples, nine of which must be upperclassmen, ride in the same car. Students may accept rides with the following faculty members: Professors of English history and sociology. The biology department has been in dire need of a new skeleton, so for the safety of each student, it is hereby ruled that they are not to accept rides offered by members of the biology department.

Smoking: Students are discouraged from smoking; however if they find they must smoke, it has to be within the four walls of their boudoir. Under no circumstances are the girls and women faculty members to smoke in the College Shoppe due to ventilation. Somehow the men seem to have a certain gift of inhaling which prevents poor ventilation and once the ladies have acquired this knack of inhaling, then this rule in all probability will be lifted. Not until a student is 10% miles out on the Richmond Road is she to smoke, and on the Washington Road it must be 10% miles. This doesn't mean 9 miles either, it's 10% miles!

These are only two rules that have been clarified. If there are any misunderstandings or questions on the part of the freshman, concerning the rules, just feel free to consult any upperclassman, SHE'LL KNOW THE ANSWERS!

EXCHANGE COLUMN

The enrollment at the University of Virginia showed a decrease of 431 in comparison with the enrollment for last year. Although the trend in most departments seems to be toward a decreased enrollment, the number of men in the Medical School and in undergraduate education has increased this year.

—The Cavalier Daily.

Construction has been started on one of the buildings provided for in the 100-Year Building Plan that Randolph-Macon College has endorsed. Under this plan numerous buildings will be constructed and the campus made more extensive. The new classroom building was the first of the new buildings to be started. Ground was broken about the middle of August and its completion is expected about June.

—The Yellow Jacket

The Richmond College handbook blandly describes the freshman as "240 degrees below the whale on the bottom of the ocean and 180 degrees above a William and Mary senior."

A second Negro student, Robert A. Smith, of Norfolk has entered an application for enrollment in the University Graduate School. The application made prior to the recent court ruling on Gregory Swanson was referred to the Virginia State University for Negroes in Petersburg. It is believed he will seek a Federal court order similar to that received by Swanson, in order to enter the University.

Station WMWC Announces Staff For 1950-'51

Anne McClerkin, Station Manager of WMWC, the campus radio station, announced today that the staff for this year has been chosen.

B. J. Snidow, Senior Speech and Drama major from West Virginia, will be Director of Programming. B. J. has been active in radio work on the campus for the past three years, and already has plans for making the programs heard at 590 on your dial more appealing and varied.

Chichi Thomson, Senior Speech and Drama major from New York, will head the Continuity-Production division of WMWC. Chichi spent the summer attending a radio-television workshop at NYU, and returns with new enthusiasm to the job she held on the staff last year.

Stacey Directs Pub. Relations Nancy Stacey, Senior Sociology major from South Carolina, and Station Manager last year, will be Director of Pub. Relations. Stacey worked for a commercial radio station this summer. Sue Workman, a Sophomore, will be Chief Assistant in Charge of Newspaper Publicity. Sue's show on WMWC, "Fiesta Time," was popular last year.

Ruthie Steas, a Senior Speech and Drama major, will be Music Librarian. Ruthie and her staff did an efficient job in this same capacity on last year's staff. Kitty Garland, a Sophomore music major, will be Assistant Music Librarian.

Talent Bureau Julia Starkey, a Junior Drama and Speech Major, will head the Talent Bureau for WMWC this year. Julia has worked in a commercial radio station during summer vacations.

Chief Engineer for WMWC will be Jeanne Therrel, a Junior with experience on last year's Engineering staff. Assistant to the Chief Engineer is Janice Horstman. Assistant Engineer in charge of Sound Effects and Recording is Anne Crizer, a Senior from Baltimore.

Mr. Cox, new member of the Speech and Drama Department, will be Faculty Adviser for WMWC.

Plans are being made for a year of good operation. There will be a meeting for all who are interested in joining the Mike Club on Thursday, Sept. 22, at 5:00 in Chandler 12. Anyone interested in working with the radio station this year is urged to attend. Watch the BULLET for announcement of the first broadcasts.

Dear Mom . . .

Well I finally arrived bag and baggage and am none the worse for it. I must admit "good ole" M. W. C. really didn't look too bad. It's been so much fun bumping into all the old girls, and I'm sure hours have been spent in just catching up with the news. Something new has been added to the campus! The freshmen. They all look so cute wearing their caps which designate them as newcomers. And Mouse Week is adding more enjoyment to the first week of school. Perhaps I should say enjoyment to the upperclassmen and trials to the freshmen. However, they seem to fit into life at M. W. C. already.

Golly, registration seemed to be an all day affair. Of course, the seniors are trying to get by on as little as possible and the juniors and sophomores cringe at the thoughts of Saturday classes.

There are lots of new faces among the faculty this year and everyone seems so pleasant, though we do miss some of our professors who have not returned. Along with the several students who cruised to Europe this summer, many of the faculty went abroad too.

Of course, there were the usual summer engagements and weddings. Also the many visits among roommates. Already week end trips and dates at U. Va. are being planned.

Well, Mom, I better close now as I still have loads of unpacking to do. Everything seems to be better skelter around the room, but with so many interruptions I can't accomplish much. Then, of course, I can't neglect my trips to the C Shoppe.

Write soon.

Love,
Dotter . . .

Leidecker To Speak To Episcopalians

Canterbury Club, the organization on campus for all Episcopal students and those who would like to attend, will have as its evening program on October 1 a discussion by Dr. Kurt Leidecker of M. W. C. and the Rev. Jesse Trotter of the Virginia Theological Seminary. The topic for discussion is "Christianity as opposed to other Philosophies." The Canterbury Club of the University of Virginia will be guests at this meeting. A bus will leave Chandler Circle at 5:30.

The program for Sunday, Oct. 8 will be a talk by Louise Davis on "The Trinity Season." Discussion and question period will follow the talk.

Herring To Head 50-51 Campus Chest

On May 24, the retiring officers and solicitors for the Campus Chest elected the following officers for the 50-51 session: chairman, Sara Herring Huntington, West Virginia; vice-chairman, Dot Belden, West Palm Beach, Fla.; secretary, Peggy Hopkins, Staunton, Virginia; treasurer, June Christian, Richmond, Virginia; publicity Director, Nancy Horap, South Dartmouth, Mass.

The newly-elected officers decided to divide the students into two teams for the campaign and use a football field to indicate progress toward the goal which will be set next fall when all the solicitors have been selected and can meet with the officers to complete plans for the campaign.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests Number 1...THE PUFFIN BIRD

"What's all the huffin' and puffin' about?
I've been a Puffin all my life!"

You may think this "bird" is funny — but he's no odder than many of the cigarette tests you're asked to make these days.

One puff of this brand — one sniff of that. A quick inhale — and you're supposed to know what cigarette to smoke from then on. The sensible test doesn't have to rely on tricks and short cuts. It's a day-after-day, pack-after-pack tryout — for 30 days. That's the test Camel asks you to make! Smoke Camels regularly for 30 days. Your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) is the best possible proving ground for any cigarette. After you've made the Camel 30-Day Mildness Test, we believe you'll know why . . .

(Editor's note: This year is a year of changes on the hill. The modifications in five of the rules, the fine new buildings, additions to the faculty and curriculum mark a beginning of an era at Mary Washington. But to all upperclassmen an era has ended. For twenty-nine years there lived in Virginia Hall a lady who is fast becoming legendary. In this first issue of the Bullet we are reprinting two articles, one from the Richmond Times-Dispatch and another from the Fredericksburg Free Lance-Star, hoping that in this way we might pay tribute to the incomparable Mrs. Nina Bushnell.)

(From the Fredericksburg Free Lance-Star)

Mrs. Bushnell Goes to Moravian To Serve as Dean

Former MWC Dean Was Here 29 Years

Mrs. Charles Lake Bushnell gave her first press release to The Free Lance-Star early this month.

It said simply that she had accepted a position as dean of women at Moravian College for Women, Bethlehem, Pa., that it was one of the oldest colleges in North America, and that it would open on September 12.

She came into the newspaper office on September 5, asking that the account be held up until the next day because she wanted to pack that evening untroubled by phone calls from well-wishing friends.

On Wednesday, Sept. 6, she quietly left Fredericksburg, her departure known only to a few close associates, leaving behind her hundreds of legends springing from the 29 years she had served as dean of women at the women's division of the University of Virginia.

Amplify Repaid

When Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson was appointed her successor in July, Mrs. Bushnell commented:

"This has been a marvelous experience. Living closely with the girls 'on the hill' has been an experience which has repaid me a thousand-and-thousand fold."

As was her custom, she would not permit her photograph to be taken or grant an interview with the press. The brief report of her new deanship was a concession to this paper. When she delivered it—modishly dressed, as always, and wearing a smart white summer jacket and hat with a black dress—she said it was the first bit of information regarding herself she had ever given the press.

At one point tears welled up in her eyes. It was hard for Mrs. Bushnell to retire.

Feted Last Year

Feted last year, when rumors of her retirement were rife throughout the campus, Mrs. Bushnell ended a period which began when Mary Washington College was still the newly established Fredericksburg State Normal School.

The former Miss Nina Gookin, of Roanoke, Mrs. Bushnell was graduated in 1903 from the University of Tennessee and in later years did graduate work at Teachers College at Columbia University.

Her first teaching position was as an instructor of English at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, N. C., from 1903-05. Later, from 1905-08, she was instructor of Latin and English in Reidsville, N. C., high school and from 1911-13 she taught Latin and English in Gate City, Va., leaving there to serve as a study hall supervisor in a school at Yazoo City, Miss.

School Principal

In 1915 she was made principal of Gwynn School, Spartansburg, S. C., a private school. She left in 1917 to take two years' training in France. Before coming here she was dean of women at Synodical College, Fulton, Mo., from 1919-21.

Besides serving as dean here, she taught Bible for a while after coming to Mary Washington College. As the only dean in the college's history, she served until her 70th birthday forced her retirement under state law.

Era Ends at MWC This Fall As Dean Of Women Retires

By Bonnie Angelo

Very quietly Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia is marking the end of an era.

It will never be known as the Bushnell era, but the thousands of graduates will remember it that way when they swap reminiscences at class reunions. For this Fall will be the first time in 29 years that Mrs. Charles Lake Bushnell has not greeted the girls as dean of women.

Mrs. Bushnell is the sort of woman who would have made an impression in far less than a quarter of a century. The first meeting reveals a unique personality, a driving energy—and you understand how one woman could have molded the mores of 1,500 young women.

Retirement to Mrs. Bushnell does not conjure up any visions of a peaceful life in a comfortable rocker. Her electric alertness will find a new channel.

Since Mrs. Bushnell came to the college, the school has come of age. From Fredericksburg State Teachers' College, it became Mary Washington College, broadening its scope, enlarging facilities. Seven years ago the college became the women's branch of the University of Virginia.

Although Dr. Morgan L. Combs is president of the college, and Colgate W. Darden, Jr., is chancellor, Mrs. Bushnell is the woman who for so many years has been "the college" to the girls.

Even in the midst of the students, Mrs. Bushnell has become almost legendary.

Her little office in Virginia Hall is the scene of many of the legends. It is there that thousands of Virginia's young men have reported before calling on the young lady of their choice. If they were listed on Mrs. Bushnell's roster of young men approved by at least one student's parents, they could proceed. They ran a risk, however, of being eyed coldly and asked whether their attire was suitable for the occasion.

Although a goodly number of new settled Virginians will admit that this first introduction to Mary Washington College was somewhat formidable, those who were campus "steadies" will add that they grew very fond of the one-woman screening board.

In her cozy office now is a picture of a handsome young colonel, with an inscription to "My best girl and charming inspiration." All around are ornaments from many corners of the world brought her by friends. And on her desk sometimes is a silver vase holding an orchid.

The girls' who have lived with her recall an unending number of other anecdotes that have contributed to the Bushnell legend.

There was the night that she decided her girls did not eat their soup with the proper finesse. She rapped for attention and announced to the hall at large that they would learn the proper way to eat soup, and began to count: "One, up—two, in—three, out—four, down." And those who didn't choke over the combination of soup and giggles had themselves a truly square meal.

Another student might remember the wartime ring dance when Mrs. Bushnell entered as a young man presented his girl with a ring and a fervent embrace. She stepped up to the next couple in line and confronted the young man with a clean-cut "Don't you dare kiss that girl!" And since it was wartime and the young escort was only a blind date filling in for the girl's best beau, he was both confused and aghast at the situation as he stepped into the spotlight.

In addition to wonderfully varied campus dramas, the girls remember their dean as a stylish woman whose age you could not possibly divine, one who was properly gowned in evening clothes at dinner, refusing to yield in the face of encroaching informality.

As a conversationalist she's a spellbinder, mixing literary language with quick wit for a highly interesting result.

Around the campus, faculty and students alike are bowled over by her boundless supply of energy. Until the last few years, she was the mainstay in decorating the college gym for the campus formal. She would lead the way in designing the decorations, then would work with the girls all day before the dance, painting and tacking and hanging. And then she would appear at the dance, as fresh as the daisy decorations, delighted to be waltzed around the floor by a great number of young dancers.

As she bows out, followed by Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson, Mary Washington will begin a new chapter. It may be a chapter in closer step with 1950—but the old hands around the campus will feel a difference without that dynamo that has been the core of the college since it was just a youngster.

MWC SENIOR SELECTED AS DANCER IN "GOING NATIVE"

Miss Lorraine Franzl, a senior at MWC who took an audition in July for "Going Native," a stage revue put on annually by the Capitol Theatre in Washington, was selected as a dancer for the performances of the week beginning Aug. 31.

STUDENTS! MAKE MONEY WRITING LUCKY STRIKE "HAPPY-GO-LUCKY" JINGLES!

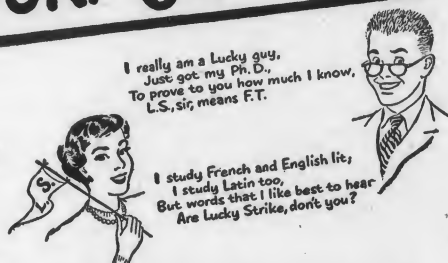

It's easy! It's fun! No box tops to send! No essays to write! Just write a simple four-line jingle, and you may make $25! Start today!

Write a "Happy-Go-Lucky" jingle, like those you see on this page, based on some phase of college life. If your jingle is selected for possible use in Lucky Strike advertising, we will pay you $25 for the right to use it and your name in our advertising. Start today. "Happy-Go-Luckies" will soon be running in your paper. Send in your jingles—as many as you like—right away, and $25 can be yours pronto if your jingle is chosen. Be the first to write a jingle in your school. Watch this paper for more "Happy-Go-Luckies."

READ THESE SIMPLE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Write your "Happy-Go-Lucky" four-line jingle on a plain piece of paper, or postcard, and send it to Happy-Go-Lucky, P.O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y.
2. Every student of any college or university may submit jingles.

Be sure your name, college and address are included—and that they are legible.

show ring Jane Foster, as the well-trained rider, complete in hunt attire, rode Time-and-a-Half over the jump course. Janie also demonstrated contact riding, which is jumping form at its best. Junior, Mr. Walther's son, then took the pony, Pinocchio, over the very same fences and had a perfect round. That pony can really jump those big ones! Since time was short, we weren't able to put on any more skits, but as Mr. Walther said, we could put on a show all afternoon. We hope all of you enjoyed our demonstration as much as we enjoyed putting it on for you.

If you folks haven't seen Punky Crise's new horse she brought with her all the way from Florida, be sure to stop by and have a look at him. He's a big, brown thoroughbred named Sharp, and he's just as good looking as he can be. You really have a fine horse there, Punky.

By now you all have probably seen the posters for Cavalry, as well as the girls in the grey uniforms who were helping Mr. Walther with signing up new riders during registration. Cavalry is the riding group on the Hill to which EVERY rider can belong. It's really lots of fun. Besides sponsoring the Gymkhana every year, the club also has overnight hikes, picnics, and movies, which are interesting as well as helpful to us in our riding. Cavalry also does many more interesting things each year. Each girl has a uniform, too. If you haven't done so, already, be sure to sign up for Cavalry. It's a grand club. Guess that's all the news for now. See you next week.

FRESHMAN COLUMN

By Frances Glass

The beginning of a new session at M. W. C. brings enthusiasm, new faculty members, and a whole new class of wide-awake and slightly bewildered freshmen. Since the class of 1954 arrived on the campus of Mary Washington College all the activities of the college have been centered around them. Everything at all possible has been done to make them feel at home. The officers of the major organizations were back early to greet them, as well as 55 student counselors who are leading the freshmen in a much more personalized and informal orientation.

These efforts have paid off in preventing more than the usual amount of homesickness and in cultivating a wonderful freshman attitude. Freshmen have flung themselves into all the rigors of orientation meetings, registration, and fixing their rooms with the general enthusiasm and the energy of troopers.

Easily recognized by their beanies, Freshmen can be seen everywhere—pulling up the hill from town loaded with extra vanity chests, wandering around Chandler, G. W., and Monroe looking for their classrooms, or making their hourly visits to the P. O. Mail is an important thing to any M. W. C. student but to a freshman it's life or death. According to one freshman it's a matter of "mail or no mail."

In 226 Willard we find a very busy and a very cosmopolitan group: Linda LeHardy from Coronado, Calif.; Joan Kaitner from Kodiak, Alaska; and "Frankie" Field from Charleston, W. Va. These three girls have been busy every moment since they arrived Sunday afternoon. They are very enthusiastic in their approval of M. W. C. Like all freshmen they are amazed to find the campus so beautiful. "We were sure that the catalog must have exaggerated a little," says Linda, "but the campus is even more beautiful than the pictures."

All three girls are surprised to find college so much fun "even without men," as Joan says. They all love college life and find it very exciting. They can hardly wait until next year when they can arrive in September and greet their classmates by name instead of coming to a strange place.

Frankie is very happy but rather perplexed about the whole thing. She says, "I'm having a wonderful time but who's going to find time to study?"

Most all freshmen seem to be having financial difficulties with college expenses pouring in. After buying books, paying fees, and fixing up their rooms, most freshmen letters home read something like this, "Dear Mom and Dad, Please send me some money—and food."

Other interesting freshmen who are closer to home are Anne Levey and Carolyn Barnes, both of Richmond. As most upper classmen know Anne is the third member of the Levey family to attend M. W. C. Her oldest sister, Maude ("Sis"), graduated last year and her other sister, Jody, is a member of the Sophomore class.

When ever problems seem to pile up, remember, freshmen, that we were all freshmen once.

"Bitsy" Gets Birdie

Last year's RA golf chairman, Miss Elizabeth Clark, better known on campus as "Bitsy," had an interesting experiment this summer on the Abingdon, Virginia, golf course; on the 7th hole she got a birdie. Not too extraordinary unless you consider that this birdie wasn't the ordinary one-under-par-for-the-hole kind of birdie. This was a little brown birdie that flew, but not quite soon enough as far as Bitsy's golfing was concerned; his golfing curiosity was stifled quickly! Better luck next time, E. C.!

Attention Freshmen!!!

Since many of you have requested information concerning the use of sports facilities here at M. W. C., we are glad to furnish it now.

Weekends, including Saturday afternoons and Sunday afternoons, facilities for tennis, golf, and swimming are available to the entire student body. Please note below the times for the use of these facilities on weekdays:

Swimming

4:00 to 5:00 Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. 5:00 to 5:30 Tuesday and Thursday. (Check bulletin board at indoor pool for times on Saturday and Sunday, and for changes in times.) No student may swim unless a college-approved life-guard is on duty.

Golf

Tuesday and Thursday after 3:30

Tennis

Tuesday and Thursday after 3:30. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday after lunch. Courts must be signed for every day on the bulletin board in the Gym, and students may sign for only one hour per day.

Hockey

Any student with previous experience who would like to try for the tournament team is welcome to come to the hockey field from 3:30 to 5:00 on Tuesday and Thursday.

Consult your Bayonet for information concerning the use of these facilities with your date on the week end.

RA Entertains M. W. Freshmen

"RA," as most of the student body knows by now, stands for the Recreation Association of Mary Washington College, which has taken an active part in the past week's program for the incoming freshman class. RA Council is composed of the officers elected by the student body and by the chairmen of the various committees such as hockey, dance, etc.

On Sunday, September 17, sponsored by RA, "Y" and Student Government a Step-Sing under the leadership of Carol King, RA vice-president, for the freshmen after supper in front of Willard Hall; on Monday night, RA Council members helped with the refreshments at the combined Welcome Party in the Big Gym. Council has also been helping with physical examinations at the Infirmary.

Wednesday afternoon the Sports Program was held on the athletic field, and Thursday night the freshmen were entertained at a Gypsy Party at the cabin. There were games, refreshments, singing, and fun for all those who attended.

"The Record" (the official publication of the Recreation Association which lists the activities for the year, the various committees and their chairmen, etc.) was distributed to the freshmen on September 19, and is being distributed to upperclassmen now.

Dean Announces Honor Roll Here

The scholastic honor roll at Mary Washington College for last semester, announced by Dean Edward Alvey, Jr., lists the names of 28 students who achieved an average of "B" or above in their courses, with no grade less than "satisfactory." This represents approximately 21 per cent of the semester's enrollment and of this number 189 are on the Dean's list for the second time this academic year. Seven students received straight "A's": Mary Cottingham of Bennington, S. C., and Carolyn-Jean Sprower of Freeport, N. Y., June graduates; Elfreda Beck of Sea Cliff, N. Y., and Jane Kitchingman of Fairfax, freshmen; Gay Brooke Garrett of Deltaville and Marion McGuire Jenkins of Fredericksburg, sophomores; and Doris Ethel Harless of Clifton Forge, a junior.

Frosh Attend Sports Program

The freshman class was shown a representative cross-section of the various sports played and enjoyed by Mary Washingtonites on Wednesday, September 20. While a great many upperclassmen slaved through registration, the newly-registered frosh attended an RA sponsored Sports Program held on the athletic field. Even a light rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the spectators and players, and the show went on.

Beginning with a tennis match at 3:30 at the courts, the program moved on to an exhibition of swimming by the RA members of the Terrapin Club, then on to the athletic field for an archery exhibition. Next on the program was an exhibition of modern dancing and square dancing, put on by members of the Modern Dance and Square Dance Clubs.

New to most of the spectators was the Fencing Club's exhibition of the ancient art of the foil and rapier. After a final demonstration of hockey skill, the spectators adjourned for the last part of the program by bus to the stables where they were welcomed by Hoofprints Club and Cavalry, and a skit and riding exhibition were given. The skit showed the contest between beginner, intermediate, and advanced riders, with the beginner played by Leah Sachs, the intermediates by Eleanor Dickson and Lois Hardee, and the advanced students by Ann Carmack and Jane Foster.

Interclub Council Meets

The Interclub Council which was formed last spring is composed of the presidents of every organization on the Hill. At the last meeting it was decided to meet every fourth Thursday at 8 o'clock. The purpose of Interclub Council is to coordinate all club activities. Mrs. Russell urged that club presidents have planned programs and attempt to often have activities which include men students from nearby colleges.

Attention!!

Watch for the terrific talent show to be staged in the middle of October! This show which will feature talent never seen on a Mary Washington stage is being sponsored by Interclub Council.

Programs Planned For Orientation

Freshmen Orientation which was begun last week with a talk by Karen Morey on the Honor System and followed by Campus Traditions presented by members of Cap and Gown will continue until Christmas.

The program scheduled for this week Thursday, Sept. 28 will be an explanation of Departmental Clubs. The clubs to be discussed are Mike Club, Contemporary Literature Club, Pi Sigma Kappa, Science Club, Portuguese, Spanish Club, Philosophy Club, Art, Athenaeum, Forensic, Home Economics, International Relations, Le Cercle Français, Mary Washington Players and Der Deutsche Studienteils.

On October 5 Orientation will include information about Baptist Student Union, Canterbury Club (Episcopal), Lutheran Student Association, Newman Club (Catholic), Wesley Foundation (Methodist), Westminster Fellowship (Presbyterian), Hillel Foundation (Jewish), Interfaith (composed of all groups), Battlefield, Bullet, Epaulet, Recreation Association, Cavalry, Concert Dance, Hoofprints, Terrapin and Folk Dance.

Freshmen are reminded that roll is checked at these meetings.

Mouse Week Ends Friday

Mouse Week has been inaugurated at M. W. C. this year. The idea was promoted by Interclub Council (composed of the president of every organization on campus) as a means of helping Freshmen learn customs. The rules still in affect are as follows:

1. Freshmen are required to wear green and white caps at all times except Sundays and when they are in their own rooms.
2. A Freshman discovered not wearing his cap will be subject to the following punishments.
 1. Errands to C-Shoppe.
 2. Help upperclassmen unpack.
 3. Help upperclassmen straighten room.
 4. Take laundry and get laundry.
 5. Get mail for upperclassmen.
 6. Return upperclassmen's breakfast tray to kitchen.
 7. Hold doors open for upperclassmen.
 8. Sing and dance to entertain upperclassmen.
 9. Carry upperclassmen's books.
3. Only one of the above punishments is to be inflicted per offence. Absolutely no hazing is permitted! Mouse Week officially ends with a gigantic pep rally in the amph-

Courses Added To Curriculum

Several additions to the curriculum have been announced by Dean Edward Alvey as Mary Washington goes into its seventh year as part of the University of Virginia.

Among the courses which bring the number offered this session to 370 are dramatic criticism, taught by Jack Warfield; Government and Business, Dr. W. H. Hewetson; Seventeenth Century French Literature, Mrs. Mildred Bolling; Diplomatic History of the United States, Dr. Henriette Krone; Roman Historians, Dr. Laura Voelke; Oriental Philosophy, Dr. Kurt Leidecker; Philosophy of Learning, Dr. Charles Martin; lyric poetry in Spanish, Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson; and Golden Age, Dr. Clifton McIntosh.

Summer School Officers

Barbara Kelley was president of Student Government during the summer session while Anne Taylor was head of "Y" and Jean Brown was head of the Recreation Association.

theatre on Friday, Sept. 29, at 6:30 P. M. At that time Freshmen will discard their caps and will be released from Mouse Week rules.

PERSONALS

School days are here again, bringing a summer happy group of upperclassmen and an enthusiastic crop of new freshmen. As usual a great number of upperclassmen return with pins or rings. There is also extra excitement on the hill due to the fact that a few girls returned with two rings on their third finger left hand.

Jeanne Moran was married to Bob Cheney on August 5 at Ft. Meade, Md., Jean Ray Burcher was married on September 3 at her home in Pogooson, Va., to Jack Forrest. Betty Jean Gardner was married in July to Bob Turner.

Former MWC students who were married during the summer are Lois Bellamy of Norfolk, Ann Lee Wright of Winchester, Ann Lee Baum of Virginia Beach, Mary Maddox Beale of Franklin and Jo Rothchild of New Brunswick, N. J.

Ada Dodril and Jenny Poole dated at the Univ. of Md. last weekend.

Janie Gregg attended a hop at Annapolis last weekend.

Pat Lancaster returned to school Tuesday with a man in town. Thursday she left school with the same man. The man happens to be Bob Bass, a graduate of John-Hopkins University and a Rhodes Scholarship winner. Since Bob is sailing for England and Oxford next Thursday, Pat is spending every available minute with him.

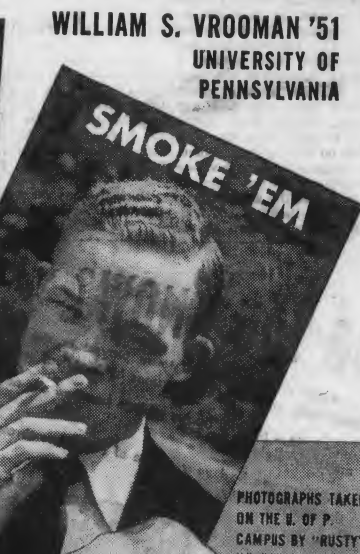

Three former MWC students, members of the graduating class of '50, Marcy Weatherly, Patti Head, and Mary Cottingham, were married during the summer. Marcy was president of her class and president of Honor Council last year. Patti was vice-president of Student Government. Mary was president of Y during her last year.

Virginia Merrill, class of 1949, was married to Oliver Nelson MacLeod on September 17 at West Roxbury, Mass.

New Epaulet Coming

The first Epaulet of the season will come out October 14. This issue will contain several innovations; among these is a Freshman Beauty page. There will also be another article titled "Our College" in which important facts regarding Mary Washington's standing will be printed.
